

Tips for Finding and Saving Images from contentDM

1. For multi-page atlases, open 2 windows in your browser — one for the index map and one for the image you want to look at
2. Within the image, Click on the thumbnail to move to the location you want to look at.
3. When combining image sections, you will need to save overlapping image content.

Use an image editor to edit or combine images. Paint is a Windows accessory (Start->Programs->Accessories).

When georeferencing images in Google Earth, a 2000 x 2000 pixel maximum is recommended. In Paint, choose Attributes from the Image menu to set the pixel maximum. Google Earth does not support BMP, save as a JPG.

When combining images in programs without layers (such as Paint), make sure the second image is located correctly before clicking on another function.
